

JOIN US for
A Training Session and Dialogue on
BIE-Funded Schools and Tribal Education Departments

Monday, July 23, 2007

2:00 – 5:00 p.m.

National Room, Renaissance Denver Hotel

3801 Quebec St., Denver, Colorado

In conjunction with the First Annual Bureau of Indian Education Partnership Conference

Agenda

- 2:00 p.m. - Welcome and Introductions.
- 2:15 p.m. Panel: Rebecca Benally (Navajo), Vice-President, Board of Education, Navajo Nation; Quinton Roman Nose (Cheyenne), Director, Education Department, Cheyenne-Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma; and, Tom Miller, (Sault Ste Marie Chippewa), Superintendent, Hannahville Indian School, will present how TEDs are assisting BIE-funded schools with school board training; staff recruitment; personnel policies; facilities standards; financial management systems; audits; education standards, academic assessments; school accreditation; consultation and negotiated rule-making with federal agencies; and, cooperative working relationships with state public schools.
- 3:15 p.m. Open Dialogue and Discussion by both TEDs and BIE-funded schools on how and how well BIE-funded school – TED relationships are working in these and other areas. Bring your comments and ideas regarding: What obstacles are there to better relationships and better services to tribal students? What can be done to overcome these obstacles? How can this be achieved?
- 4:45 p.m. Wrap up and Adjourn.

There is no registration fee for this Training Session and Dialogue.
Soft drinks will be provided for attendees.

The Training Session and Dialogue are sponsored by the Tribal Education Departments National Assembly; the National Indian School Board Association; the National Indian Education Association; the National Congress of American Indians; and, the Native American Rights Fund